

Website Privacy Policy

This privacy policy ("policy") will help you understand how Right to Work ("us", "we", "our") uses and protects the data you provide to us when you visit and use www.righttowork.net.au ("website").

We reserve the right to change this policy at any time. To ensure that you are up to date with the latest changes, we advise you to frequently refresh this page.

What User Data We Collect

When you visit the website, we may collect the following data:

- Your IP address.
- Your contact information and email address.
- Other information such as interests and pages visited.
- Data regarding your online behavior on our website.

Why We Collect Your Data

We collect data for several reasons:

- To better understand website visitor needs.
- To improve our services and products.
- To customise our website according to visitors' online behavior and personal preferences.

Safeguarding and Securing the Data

Right to Work is committed to securing your data and keeping it confidential. Right to Work has done all in its power to prevent data theft, unauthorised access, and disclosure by implementing the latest technologies and software, which help us safeguard all the information we collect online.

Our Cookie Policy

The data we collect by using cookies is used to customise our website to your needs. After we use the data for statistical analysis, the data is completely removed from our systems.

Please note that cookies don't allow us to gain control of your computer in any way. They are strictly used to monitor which pages you find useful and which you do not so that we can provide a better experience for you.

If you want to disable cookies, you can do it by accessing the settings of your internet browser. You can visit <https://www.internetcookies.com>, which contains comprehensive information on how to do this on a wide variety of browsers and devices.
